

New Clothes	page 42
The Kiwi	43
Samuel Called to God's Service	46
Should Henry get a Good Thrashing?	49
Little Things	51
Number Our Days	52
A Slippery Road	54
Some Australian Birds	56
Vanie's and Annie's Answered Prayer	58
Rainy Season Story	62
God Is My Help	64

Found Out

THIS story is about two American boys, Carl and Benny. They were great friends, but sometimes they got into trouble.

One day they went to Mr. Brown, the shoe repairer, to get new rubber heels put on Carl's shoes. On the way home Benny told Carl, "When I was waiting for you I saw a peach tree behind the shop. It has ripe peaches on it. Let's get some tonight."

"That wouldn't be right," Carl told Benny. "That would be stealing, wouldn't it?" But his mouth watered.

"Oh, we won't take many," answered Benny, "just enough for the two of us. Nobody will ever miss them."

"But what if we get caught," Carl said, looking worried.

But to the peach tree they went that night. Quickly they gathered peaches; then they crept back through the grass. They ran to the barn at Carl's place and hid the peaches there, planning to eat them in the next few days.

In the barn Carl was feeling uneasy. He was pretty sure no one had seen them, but that did not make him feel better.